Responsive Respiratory Releases New White Paper "Steps to Financial Freedom in 2009 – An Oxygen Provider Solution Study"

St. Louis, Missouri - - December 15, 2008 – Responsive Respiratory, a leader in high pressure oxygen products, announced today that it is making available its white paper "Steps to Financial Freedom in 2009 – An Oxygen Provider Solution Study." The study addresses key aspects of an oxygen provider's business in light of the upcoming Medicare cuts, 9.5% reimbursement reduction and cap rental.

The white paper was designed to offer oxygen providers an easy 3 step approach to analyze their current business and to develop a comprehensive plan to boost their profitability based on their available assets and patient mix. "Oxygen providers are asking us (as manufacturers) what practices they can adopt to help them stay profitable in 2009," notes Tom Bannon, President. "We created this white paper to serve as guide, offering clearly defined steps to identify actions to take in order to recognize an immediate impact. Then they can plan for long-term solutions and the capital investment they'll need."

The complete white paper can be requested via email at info@respondo2.com or by calling 866-333-4030.
